FIRE DAMAGES I. T. CUMMINS RESIDENCE

Sparks from the flue set fire to the roof of the home of I. T. Cummins, on Home avenue, Thursday forenoon, but the blaze was confined to the attic and was extinguished by firemen without much loss.

A section of roof and gable on the west side of the house was burned away.

Chemicals were used chiefly in extinguishing the blaze, and the interior of the house was not damaged. There was no loss to the furnishings.

The blaze in the roof was first seen by a boy delivering groceries to the Cummins home, who gave the alarm.

The fire department was recalled to the house later in the morning which the blaze broke out again. It was extinguished in a few moments.

The house is owned by John Coakley, and the damage is covered by insurance.

POWERFUL PILE REMEDY DISCOVERED

Has Never Failed to End Most Obstinate Cases of Piles in Few Days.

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles, and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles that even chronic cases of from 25 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it's worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT: What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription. adv

MRS. LONG AND MRS. BUELL ENTERTAIN FOR THEIR NIECE

Mrs. Thomas C. Long and Mrs. Lester Buell entertained at the home of Mrs. Long on East Market street Wednesday afternoon, complimenting their niece, Mrs. Wright Maddux, a recent bride.

There were fifty guests invited to the Long home, and each was asked to take along her needlework, and a toast to the guest of honor. A very clever collection of bright and witty toasts was the result of the response to this request of the hostesses, and the verses were all given to Mrs. Maddux, who, with Miss Dorothy Faulkner, read them aloud.

Mrs. Maddux was instructed by the hostesses to make a search for a gift which was concealed about the house, and her search was rewarded when she came across the present, a very handsome, gold clock. The clock was a gift of Mrs. Long and Mrs. Buell.

The color arrangement of green and white was carried out about the house in sweet peas and ferns, and the two course luncheon had touches of green.

J. T. SMITH GETS THREE DEER WHILE IN FLORIDA HUNT

The following item from a Florida paper indicates that J. T. Smith of this city is having some very interesting sport this winter:

J. T. Smith, of Xenia, O., who is spending the winter in Florida, has just returned from a hunt near Big Corkscrew swamp, and reports splendid success, having bagged three deer and several turkeys. Mr. Smith hunted in Florida ten years ago when game was more plentiful than now, and he states that if Florida does not do something to protect the game better, that within ten years there will be none at the rate game has decreased in the last ten years.

A "young" woman, seventy-seven years old, writes: "I am taking Sulphur Tablets, and I think they are a splendid remedy for constipation. TEACHING PATRIOTISM.

We talk a good deal about Americanizing the foreigners, but are we always alert to the opportunities for Americanizing Americans, let alone the foreigners? How often, for instance, do we take advantage of the anniversaries of noted Americans or of notable events in our history to teach Americanism?

Within the last few weeks we have had Lincoln's Birthday and Washington's Birthday—splendid opportunities for impressing upon the minds of the young, especially, lessons of patriotism. How many young people were so impressed? How many teachers used these anniversaries to help them in making good Americans of their pupils?

We also passed, since the year began, the anniversaries of the birth of Israel Putnam, Ethan Allen, Alexander Hamilton, Benjamin Franklin, Daniel Webster, James G. Blaine and half a dozen other notable Americans. And besides these were the anniversaries of several historical events—Webster's reply to Hayne, President and Vice President chosen for the first time (February 1, 1789), destruction of the battleship Maine, dedication of the Washington Monument, Florida ceded to the United States, etc.

There is hardly a day of the months just passed that was not an anniversary of something upon which lessons of patriotism may not be hung. And the days to come will be equally rich in memories.

America, for years past, has been such a mecca for the down-trodden peoples of Europe, that they have flocked to us at the rate of a million a year. We bade them welcome, and gave them the opportunity to make good in a way even far beyond their expectations. But alas, so many of them stopped in the large cities; did not try to learn our language; massed in colonies speaking their own foreign language; became aliens in effect; and have been worked up by designing anarchists to be actually enemies of the best government on earth, which was so sincere in trying to be their friend. What a pity, what a pity.

And what a lesson this should be to this great country? It has been suggested that the President should have a Cabinet member on Education. If therein you include American Patriotism, we say good, good, and we cannot have it a day too soon. The country is starving for it to-day. It should be a crime to teach any language but English in the primary schools of the United States. Our foreign born population should be Americanized at once until every one of them can read and speak English.

And it should be the law in every State in the Union that at least one hour per week should be devoted to teaching Patriotism in every school in the land. We all need the lesson. We are too indifferent on the subject of Love of Country. Many peoples have no reason to love their country, but the world acknowledges that our's is the best on which the sun shines. We should enthuse over the fact, and let those who do not know the reason, be told it.

But it is not alone our foreign born citizens that need to be taught love of country. It seems unaccountable that native born Americans should sometimes be found willing to throw away this heritage of mankind. In 1832 citizens of South Carolina became so obstreperous that President Jackson had to threaten to hang the leaders high as Haman if they did not behave; and along about 1840 Hayne, (again of South Carolina), advocated nullification, which brought out the world-famous reply of Daniel Webster; to say nothing of the four years civil war to dissolve the Union. (Started in South Carolina.) Yes, yes, let us have Patriotism, love of country, taught.

Love of country is one of the loftiest of virtues, and treason against it one of the blackest of sins. Shakespeare said: "I do love my country's good with a respect more tender, more holy and profound than mine own life."

"INVADING ENEMIES."

To some New York citizens who protested that the federal government was unduly severe in sending out of the country certain "radical" residents, Secretary of Commerce Wilson explained that the offenders, being aliens, never had any rights in this country except on tolerance of the United States government, and that they have forfeited those rights by advocating the forcible overthrow of the government, and so are subjects to deportation under the authority of the immigration law.

"It is my intention," he added, "as secretary of labor, now that the usual danger of sea travel is over, to carry out the clear provisions of the law; first, because it is my sworn duty to do so, and second, because any foreigner who comes to this country and advocates the overthrow of our form of government by force is an invading enemy, who is treated with great leniency when he is simply deported to the land from which he came."

This is a straight, strong statement of the situation. The attention of silly or traitorous critics is particularly invited to the fact that the offenders are "invading enemies," and are getting off easy when they are allowed to go back home instead of being hanged or shot. Most of them realize that so clearly that they have wisely turned down the government's invitation to appeal to the courts if they don't like their medicine.

The secretary's statement leaves only one thing to be regretted—that these gentry were not exported by the ship-load before "the unusual danger of sea travel" was over.

"The same confidence you give to Blanche Orton."

How had I come to say such a thing? It had not been in my mind, in fact Mrs. Orton herself had not entered into my thoughts while I talked to Neil. He was terribly angry at me. We had seldom quarreled, but Neil was high-tempered, and I always tried not to arouse him. But I had said unconsciously the very thing that was at the bottom of my wish to know of his business. I was only a woman, after all, and in that tense moment while I waited for him to speak, I realized that I WAS jealous of Blanche Orton. Jealous of her influence over Neil, of the anger he showed because I mentioned her.

"Why do you bring Blanche into the conversation?"

As he asked the question, each word of which was clearly cut, as it with a knife, he leaned forward and looked me straight in the eyes.

"Because I know there is something between you—Oh, I am not accusing you of any vulgar intrigue—but I know, Neil, that you tell her things—things you refuse to tell me; you and those men talk your business with her, while I, your wife, know nothing about it."

"Is that all?"

"Isn't it enough, Neil?"

Then for the first time I fully realized how very angry Neil could become. He fairly raved at times, and at others was coldly sarcastic. I besought him; I tried to reason with him; I almost prayed to him, but without effect. He called me meddlesome, and swore he would not have me interfering with his business affairs. He sneered at my puritanical up-bringing, every little while fortifying himself by taking a drink from the bottle he had taken from the cellolette, when he first commenced to rave at me.

As usual, I had done harm when I wanted only to do good. By and by when he had worn himself out with the violence of his emotions, I coaxed and petted him back to a semblance of good nature.

"It takes two to quarrel, Neil. You will have to do it without me. I have said nothing to cause this trouble; and I shall not talk to you any more tonight. Come, dear, kiss and make up. I know you do not mean half you have said. If you had, if I thought you did, I—would have to go home, I—couldn't stay."

Go where you will, you will find no better "stand-by" food than Grape-Nuts. Delicious and economical.

To this day, I don't know whether I meant what I said or not. But it seemed to sober Neil immediately. He mumbled something about being tired and worn out when he came home, and then about my pitching into him when he was in that condition. But after a bit he said shamefacedly:

"Forget it, Bab, please. I guess I have been more or less a brute tonight. Then: 'Forgive me and kiss me, dear. And Bab, you didn't mean that did you—that you would leave me?' Fear was in his voice. Tell me, Babie, that you will never say that again."

The old pet name was like a kiss. He seldom had used it since our marriage. Never, save when in a tender, loving mood.

Suddenly it came over me that Neil was unhappy. That he had perhaps begun to drink more than was good for him, because he WAS anxious and worried. But what awful things he had said! Yet I found myself saying inwardly:

"Poor darling fellow!" with a pity that entirely swept away all sense of personal wrong. The thought was so poignant that my eyes filled with tears and I replied:

"Of course, I'll forget and forgive, both. And I couldn't have meant what I said, dear, because I couldn't live without you, I couldn't!"

With a curious expression of effort, he brought out:

"Then—never—say it again, Bab, never."

Someway, in thinking of it long after he slept, his fear that I might leave him comforted me. And it was the only thing about our talk that did—that and his calling me "Babie."

WOMEN DON'T CHEER STANDARD CLOTHES

London, February 12.—(By Mail)—English women are promised standard costumes, coats and skirts by Easter. But they're not a bit enthusiastic about it.

During four years of war patriotism continually impressed upon the fair sex what a huge economy could be accomplished if only they would standardize their wardrobes. The persuasion fell on deaf ears.

Managers of the West End stores are convinced that the standard clothes they find no sale. From their experience they claim that women at heart is an individualist and will never be content to let another know how much she has paid for a garment.

In view of women's determined stand an experiment is being made to place on the market standardized cloths at a standardized price and profit, leaving the design to the manufacturers who cater to women's individual tastes.

MOTORAIDS

There has been considerable experimentation regarding the use of kerosene to drive motor cars. One concern that has tried it found that kerosene made the car pick up much quicker than gasoline. The kerosene gave much more power because when you shut it off and put on gasoline, the car would slow down immediately and begin to labor and then, turning back on kerosene, there was an immediate pickup.

In the low throttling test it was found that kerosene was not as efficient as gasoline. The car would throttle down about one mile per hour lower on gasoline than on kerosene, so that in this respect the gasoline was somewhat more efficient than the kerosene. However, the car would throttle down so low on either fuel that you could get out and walk beside it. The next test was to see what increase or decrease in mileage could be obtained. Using a car of the same type and under the same conditions, equipped with the ordinary carburetor as a comparison, it was found that the car equipped with the kerosene carburetor gave an increase in mileage of about one third and this made no difference whether gasoline or kerosene was used as a fuel.

The Thrift of Years.

Every man should strive to live at least 100 years and die all hitched up in working harness. Many a man feels that he would like to retire at about sixty and spend the rest of his years with nothing to do but lead a gold-headed cane around by the hand. It is thrifty to stay on the job just as long as possible. Every man should make the country plant his favorite flower and the undertaker his worst enemy.—Thrift Magazine.

BEST TREATMENT FOR "COLD"

Inhalation of Steam Declared to Be a Remedy Superior to Administration of Drugs.

"What medicine may I give my baby when he has a cold?" This is a question which is asked repeatedly. My answer is, "None." Not that the least sign of a cold should be lightly regarded, but because there are other and better remedies than medicine. Most drugs given for colds upset the stomach, more or less, so much so that a few doses will seriously harm that organ; and when an infant's or small child's stomach and digestion are disturbed not enough nourishment is retained to keep up the child's strength and combat the infection—for almost every so-called "cold" is caused by an infectious germ.

The most sane and effectual method of treating children's colds is by the inhaling of steam, plain or medicated, and by the application of mustard or some other equally good counter-irritant. The steam lubricates and soothes the irritated and inflamed passages which lead down into the lungs, as well as the air cells of the lungs themselves. The mustard paste affords relief, by drawing the blood from the congested air cells in the lungs to the surface of the skin. Either one of these methods is more sure and acts more quickly in giving relief than any treatment with drugs. — Marianna Wheeler in People's Home Journal.

EXPLAINING FALL OF JERICO

Scientists Have Shown How Happening at Which Many Have Scoffed Was Quite Possible.

Many have refused to believe the biblical suggestion that the walls of Jericho fell down before the Israelites as a result of the sound caused by their shouts and the horns blown by the seven priests.

Modern researches and discoveries in regard to sound phenomena, however, show that such biblical miracles could be reconciled with natural law.

Vibration of sound is a thing the possibilities of which we do not yet understand. It is said that one of the great tenor singers can break a wine-glass by singing into its keynote. The sub-bass of the pipe organ is known to rack pews to pieces with its sympathetic note.

The authentic story is told of an old fiddler who, angered by the workmen constructing the first suspension bridge at Niagara, threatened to fiddle it down. Of course he was laughed at, but, seating himself near the bridge he began to experiment with his bass string.

When he found the note that suited him he saved away on that note. The cables responded and soon the bridge was swaying in an alarming fashion. If he had not been stopped he might have fulfilled his threat. In any case care was afterward exercised to prevent a particle of vibration in the bridge.

The Governments of the Dominion and Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta want the farmer to prosper, and extend every possible encouragement and help to Grain Growing and Stock Raising.

GIRLS TO TAKE PART IN ANNUAL COUNTY CONTEST

Basketball fans are taking a keen interest in the annual tournament for the high school championship of Greene county, which will be held in Kelley Hall, Antioch college, Saturday, March 15.

A new feature of the tournament this year will be a contest for the championship of the county by girls' teams. Four high schools will be represented in this contest Jamestown, Cedarville, Yellow Springs and Ross township, and they will compete for the silver trophy which is now on display in a window of a Springfield jewelry store.

Ten boys teams have been entered in the meet. To the team winning first place will be awarded a silver loving cup which will be a permanent possession of the high school represented by the victors, and also the temporary possession of the trophy which is now in the hands of Cedarville high. The team winning second place will be awarded a purse.

The Antioch Academy will play the "odd games" when necessary, but will not, because of its connection with the college, be contenders for the prizes.

Godfrey and Deitrich, of Wittenberg college, have been secured as referees.

All contending teams should be at the college to register at 8:30 a. m. and games will begin at 9.

Contrary to custom, meals will not be served at the college this year.

Tells How to Stop a Bad Cough

Surprising results from this famous old home-made syrup. Easily prepared and costs little.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold, accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with croup and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup, if desired. This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

Just get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine now for a few cents—all drug stores recommend it—apply a little as directed and within ten minutes there will be an appearance of abundance, freshness, fluffiness and an incomparable gloss and lustre, and try as you will you cannot find a trace of dandruff or falling hair; but your real surprise will be after about two weeks' use, when you will see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—sprouting out all over your scalp—Danderine is, we believe, the only sure hair grower, destroyer of dandruff and cure for itchy scalp and it never fails to stop falling hair at once.

If you want to prove how pretty and soft your hair really is, moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair—taking one small strand at a time. Your hair will be soft, glossy and beautiful in just a few moments—a delightful surprise awaits everyone who tries this. adv

YOUR BOY AND MY BOY THIRTY YEARS FROM NOW

Twenty five or thirty years from now your boy and my boy will be fore-gathering at the campfire of the annual reunion of the soldiers of the greatest war this old world has ever known.

They'll be recounting the incidents of their war career from the training camp to the French front. Maybe the big clash at Chateau Thierry, the push in the Argonne forest, the royal scrimmage in Belleau wood. And some of them will be showing the scars they have been carrying over since. The medals they won. The absence maybe of a leg or arm, left somewhere over there. Or blinking in the dim light from one eye.

Provided always that we bring 'em back safe and sound now.

That is only one of the tasks that confronts Uncle Sam at this minute.

But it's the biggest one of them all to you and me. We want all these other things taken care of. We want the industries paid honestly for the sacrifices they have made. We want the merchant marine plan carried out to the letter. We want Uncle Sam to do all he can to insure a continuance of the present prosperity. We want to help the weak nations abroad.

But over and above, we want our boys back home.

That's the thing we will be most considering when the bond man comes around for our Victory-Liberty Loan subscription.

We will be selfish, perhaps, but we will be intimately human.

Yet generous in the fact that in helping our own boy to get back we will be assisting something like a million and a half others.

We're for that, strong. Just how strong, our bond purchases will show.

That Loan's going over the top.

Greatness.

He alone is worthy of the appellation (great) who either does great things, or teaches how they may be done, or describes them with a suitable majesty when they have been done; but those only are great things which tend to render life more happy, which increase the innocent enjoyments and comforts of existence, or which pave the way to a state of future bliss more permanent and more pure.

By a certain fate great acts and great eloquence have most commonly gone hand in hand, equalling and honoring each other in the same ages—Milton.

DOCTORS HAND OUT LIVE TIPS

Take Public Into Confidence

Prominent physicians claim people fail in life because of "nervous hunger" that is the need for bright-eyed, strong, nerved man or woman who is "there" at work or play.

Strong, well nourished nerves is the great secret of success, health and happiness.

Men and women try to live regardless of health, strength, ambition, energy and hope, they exceed the speed limits, wasting nerve strength and energy and fail to store up reserve force, afterwards they only exist, life has no joys.

Without energy, ambition, strong nerves, and pure blood one cannot hope to enjoy the fullest measure of success and happiness.

A noted specialist says: "Phosphated Iron brings strength to the blood, nerves and brain, that it is a perfect combination of vital elements of great tonic qualities when taken by 'Nervous' and 'Physically' weak people, it will increase body and nerve energy, restore ambition and staying powers."

Special Notice—To insure physicians and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we put up capsules only, so do not allow dealers to supply any pills or tablets.

My reputation for fair dealing and reliable goods, coupled with the De Laval record of service and durability, has made the De Laval Cream Separator the leader in this community.

COST—That's what you put into a cream separator.

VALUE—That's what you take out of your cream separator.

Value in a cream separator depends upon the amount and the quality of service you get out of it.

Because it lasts fifteen to twenty years the De Laval is the most economical cream separator to buy. If you consider its cleaner skimming, easier running, greater capacity and less cost for repairs, the price of the "cheapest" machine on the market is exorbitant in comparison.

With present high butter-fat prices and the scarcity of labor this is true than ever.

Starving in the Midst of Plenty

Acid-Stomach Steals Strength and Good Feelings From Millions

One of the worst features of acid-stomach is that very often it literally starves its victims in the midst of plenty. And the strange thing about it is that the people with acid-stomachs seldom know what their trouble really is.

No matter how good or wholesome the food may be, or how much they eat, they do not gain in strength. This is clearly explained by the fact that an acid-stomach cannot properly digest food. Instead of healthy, normal digestion, the excess acid causes the food to sour and ferment. Then when this mass of sour, fermented food, charged with excess acid, passes into the intestines, it becomes the breeding place for all kinds of germs and toxic poisons, which in turn are absorbed into the blood and in this way distributed throughout the entire body. And that is exactly why it is that so many thousands of people eat and eat and keep on eating and yet are literally starving in the midst of plenty. Their acid-stomachs make it absolutely impossible for them to get the full measure of nourishment out of their food. And it doesn't take long for this poor nourishment to show its ill effects in a weakened, emaciated body.

You may say: "My stomach doesn't hurt me." That may be true because many victims of acid-stomach do not actually suffer stomach pains. Then again, there are millions who do suffer all kinds of aches and pains—headaches, rheumatic twinges, gout, lumbago, pains around the heart and in the chest—who never dream that an acid-stomach is the real cause of the trouble.

Naturally, the sensible thing to do is to strike right at the very cause of this trouble and clean the excess acid out of the stomach. There is a quick, easy way to do this. A wonderful new remedy quickly removes the excess acid without the slightest discomfort. It is EATONIC. Made in the form of tablets—they are good to eat—just like a bit of candy. They literally absorb the injurious excess acid and carry it away through the intestines. They also drive the bloated out of the body—in fact you can fairly feel it work. Make a test of EATONIC in your own case today. Get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist. See for yourself how surely it brings quick relief in those painful attacks of indigestion, bitterheartburn, belching, disgusting food repeating, that awful bloated, lumpy feeling after eating and other stomach miseries. Banish all your stomach troubles so completely that you forget you have a stomach. Then you can eat what you like and digest your food in comfort without fear of distressing after effects.

If EATONIC does not relieve you, it will not cost you one penny. You can return it to your druggist and get your money back. So if you have the slightest question about your health—if you feel you are not getting all the strength out of your food—if you are not feeling tip-top, ready for your work, full of vim and vigor—do give EATONIC a fair trial this very day and see how much better you will feel.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

La-may Face Powder

Is Harmless to the Most Delicate Skin

Now you can use a pure face powder that is guaranteed not to injure the most delicate baby skin. It will not cause enlarged pores, blackheads and irritations. And it really stays on better than any other face powder. It does not contain white lead or starchy rice powder (Poudre de Riz) to make it stick. White lead poisons the skin and rice powder turns into a gluey paste that encourages enlarged pores, blackheads and rice powder pimples. The specialist who makes this improved powder uses a medicinal ingredient that doctors use to heal the skin. In fact, this new powder helps to prevent and reduce enlarged pores and pimples. It is also astringent, discouraging flabbiness, crows' feet and wrinkles. Because it is pure and because it stays on so well this La-may powder

JUDGE KYLE SPEEDS UP PROCEEDINGS IN THE NEWARK COURTS

(Newark American Tribune.)

The speed under which the common pleas court is working a novel situation arose Tuesday morning.

In the matter of Blanche Francis-co versus Henry Z. Hookinson, the entire day Monday was taken with a trial of the case, with Ralph Norpell for the plaintiff and C. L. Flory, the prosecutor, for the defendant. Suit had been brought to recover about $50 alleged to be due the plaintiff from the defendant for personal services rendered the defendant as a housekeeper.

Monday afternoon the jury took the case and retired to the jury room. At a later hour they returned and announced to the court that they were unable to agree. The court dismissed them for the night and this morning Judge Kyle ordered them to the chamber of reflection. Both the attorneys have been innoated with the speed idea. Mr. Norpell, though not a poker player, suggested raising the limit, forget the jury and leave it to Judge Kyle and let him pass on it.

The prosecutor saw the raise and came back with: "Sure I will."

The court seems to be a self starter. Hardly had the attorneys agreed when he simply said, "I will decide this case for the defendant, call the next case."

Ex-City Solicitor Norpell has a career before him if he would study the national game of poker. Not a muscle of his face changed though he could not have done worse by leaning on the jury. He had, however, made an escape for himself and Mr. Flory from a retrial of the case.

CADOMENE GOOD FOR OLD PEOPLE

Read This Voluntary Letter.

The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio:

Dear Sirs: I just bought another tube of Cadomene Tablets. My wife and I have used one tube and find them as you state. They have made my wife a whole lot better, as she was so cross from being so nervous and run-down. They have helped me, too, as I was so nervous and irritable and unable to sleep. We are both getting well along in years, although we do not feel old since taking Cadomene Tablets. They surely made us feel like new people, all right, etc. Yours respectfully, Hugh Kelson, 219 E. Broadway, Muskogee, Okla. Cadomene Tablets is the best medicine for nervous, run-down systems. Sold by druggists everywhere.—Adv.

DESPODENT WOMEN

A prominent writer claims that "women are naturally despondent," but often mental depression may be attributed to an abnormal condition of the system, which expresses itself in nervousness, backache, headaches, sleeplessness, and consequent despondency. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound goes to the root of this trouble, it gives tone and strength to the system and restores women to a normal, healthy condition. adv

KIDNEYS WEAKENING? BETTER LOOK OUT!

Kidney and bladder troubles don't disappear of themselves. They grow upon you, slowly but steadily, undermining your health with deadly certainty, until you fall a victim to incurable disease.

Stop your troubles while there is time. Don't wait until little pains become big aches. Don't trifle with disease. To avoid future suffering begin treatment with GOLD MEDAL Haarleim Oil Capsules now. Take three or four every day until you feel that you are entirely free from pain.

This well-known preparation has been one of the national remedies of Holland for centuries. In 1896 the government of the Netherlands granted a special charter authorizing its sale.

The good housewife of Holland would almost as soon be without food as without her "Real Dutch Drops," as she quaintly calls GOLD MEDAL Haarleim Oil Capsules. Their use restores strength and is responsible in a great measure for the sturdy, robust health of the Hollanders.

Do not delay. Go to your druggist and insist on his supplying you with a box of GOLD MEDAL Haarleim Oil Capsules. Take them as directed, and if you are not satisfied with results your druggist will gladly refund your money. Look for the name GOLD MEDAL on the box and accept no other. In scaled boxes, three sizes.
